DESIGN GUIDELINES

1

BE BOLD
BE SIMPLE
BE CLEAR

Each design should have a single, clear objective.

CREATE NEGATIVE SPACE

Just because you can fit more elements into a design doesn't mean that you should.

85% WHITE
& 15% ORANGE

Every design should have a dominant color. Aim for an 80/20 split between primary and secondary colors.

CREATE A VISUAL HIERARCHY

Create a dominant element, and lead everything else from that. The hierarchy of this page is:
number, headline, description.

(ATTRACT)

5

(ENGAGE)

ATTRACT
ENGAGE
CONNECT

(CONNECT)

That's our communication hierarchy.
Every design should strive to accomplish all three steps of the hierarchy, in order.

VOICE + TONE

WHAT IS IT?

How we speak

Our brand voice and tone is our communicative “vibe” – it describes the way we speak in our communications, and defines how copy should feel to our audience.

WHY IS IT IMPORTANT?

Establishing characteristic language

Our brand voice and tone should feel consistent across all T1V communications channels, and feel characteristic of who we are as an organization.

TONALITY

ALL IN

We are 100% committed to our craft, to our customers, to innovation, and to delivering interactive experiences that surpass the norm. We're tenacious, thoughtful, dedicated, and focused.

HUMAN

People first in all things, all ways. Behind all of this technology lies a team that is passionate about what we do, and who are focused on the people we build these experiences for. Above all else, we want to help our fellow humans to do and accomplish more with our creations.

OPTIMISTIC

We believe in the power of what we do. We are positive, curious, and enthusiastic about the future and about the role our work can play in human interactions. We have a freshness about us that is youthful and vibrant.

PUNCTUATION + STYLE

Addresses

When composing an address, write out the street, city, state, and country addresses in long form.

ex: 5025 West WT Harris Boulevard - Suite A
Charlotte, North Carolina 28269
United States of America

When referring to locations in body text, spell out the city and state (avoid abbreviations). Upon first appearance, use city and state to reference locations in the United States; city and country in international locations. You can reference the city name in following text.

ex: Charlotte, North Carolina
ex: Toronto, Canada

Colons / Semicolons

TIV prefers the use of semicolons in lists with longer clauses (four or more words) or internal commas.

ex: ThinkHub accommodates many activities required for collaboration, like the ability to interact with a digital whiteboard; share advanced content to the Canvas; share your screen to the ThinkHub Canvas, and more...

Commas

TIV prefers the use of an Oxford Comma. Always use a comma after the penultimate item in a list of three or more items, before 'and' or 'or'.

ex: TIV's collaboration solutions include ThinkHub, ThinkHub Huddle, and TIV Hub.

Dashes

Hyphens (-) are used to create a single idea of two or more words and are always connected (ex: hyper-connected); en dashes are used for ranges (1-10, for example); em dashes (—) are used to set related, yet separate thoughts off from each other, either within a sentence or following it, and in either case they are not connected.

Dates

Dates can be written in long form or short form. When used in body text, it is preferable to write the long form of the date.

Long Form: Capitalize the month, use the numeral for the date (omit "th" or "st"), comma, year

ex: May 1, 2021

Short Form: Do not use zero before single-digit months or dates; always use four digits for the year; use periods to separate numbers

ex: 5.1.2021

Exclamation Points

We love excitement — be careful not to overdo it; try to avoid more than one exclamation point per paragraph.

If you are writing internal-facing communication — use all the ! you like!

Intellectual Property

Copyright

Copyright should be included in the footer of all TIV marketing materials in print and online.

Single Year: © 2021 TIV, Inc. All Rights Reserved.
Multiple Years: © 2010-2021 TIV, Inc. All Rights Reserved.

Patents

TIV's registered patents should be included in the footer of TIV marketing materials in print and online, where applicable.

ex: TIV's proprietary software is covered by multiple patents and patents pending including US Patents 8,522,153, 8,583,491, and 8,600,816.

Trademark

Use the trademark symbol (™) after the TIV product name or phrase in its first appearance. After the first appearance, do not use the trademark symbol for the remainder of appearances.

ex: ThinkHub Huddle™ is a collaboration board to connect teams. Hybrid teams can connect to ThinkHub Huddle whether working in-room or remotely.

Registered Trademark

Use the registered trademark symbol (®) after the TIV product name or phrase in its first appearance. After the first appearance, do not use the registered trademark symbol for the remainder of appearances.

ex: ThinkHub® helps teams work better, together. Whether teams are in the same room, spread across different global sites, or are connecting from home — ThinkHub supports all of the different ways you work.

Numbers

Spell out as words one to ten; use numerals 11 to 999; spell out large numbers like thousand, million, billion.

ex: 500, 11 thousand; one million; 20 billion

Parentheses + Periods

Periods go on the outside of the end parenthesis when included as part of a sentence (like this). (When parenthesizing a standalone sentence, keep the period inside the end parenthesis.)

Phone Numbers

Use a period to break phone numbers.

ex: 704.594.1610

Use plus sign, international code, and space to mark international numbers.

ex: +1 704.594.1610

Plus Signs

Use the plus sign (+) to symbolize "and" in business titles, copy titles, and headers. Avoid using the ampersand (&).

Preferred Language

mobile device

in general, use 'mobile device' instead of "phone" or "tablet" (unless specifically speaking to one of the two)

Quotation Marks

Punctuation goes inside quotation marks. For example, she asked, "how do I remember?" He replied, "keep punctuation on the inside, please."

Slashes

When discussing the use of slashes, it is a 'slash'...not a backslash. Always use a single space before and after a slash.

ex: ThinkHub connects in-room / remote / hybrid teams.

Spacing

Always use a single space after the period in body text. Never double space.

WELCOME TO T1V'S PRODUCT BRANDING ECOSYSTEM

We've developed this series of branding icons, marks, logos, and naming to help build unique identities for each of our products, while also giving us flexibility in the way we can combine the solutions for our customers. These elements can be used in web content, case study content, sales quotes, and videos, to name a few, to visually define the makeup of each T1V visual collaboration solution.
